

Air Purifier

Hello,

My name is Susan Thomas. In January of 2006, I moved into a new apartment. Within a few days, I noticed I had a hard time breathing and my eyes were bloodshot. I also felt sick to my stomach.

Each day, I was getting progressively worse. I was nervous because I had just moved everything in and thought I would have to move again.

I have allergies and have experienced something like this before when the apartment I lived in had mold in the walls which is a health hazard to anyone.

The last thing I wanted to do was move again. I prayed & prayed for healing & wisdom as to what to do. I worked for days scrubbing down the place and someone had mentioned to me to use bleach on the walls. I could do this because the walls were all white. This was to get rid of any cat dander because my friend who lived there before I moved in had a cat. She also watched her daughters dog from time to time.

I missed a day of work and the other days I just went to work sick. I called my mom and cried to her on the phone. I was beginning to get discouraged. The next day, she had the answer to my problem. Aren't mom's great! She knew this man who was in the air purifying business; someone she had met at her BNI meeting. She said she called him and ordered the air purifier over the phone. He was going to get one to me right away and to call him to tell him where I lived.

He came the very next day. He brought a small purifier but said it had the capacity to purify my whole apartment. He said it would kill or get rid of any dust mites which I am highly allergic to and the cat dander. When he plugged it in, it didn't work for some reason. I felt my stomach drop. I thought I could not stand another night in this apartment. He said "don't worry, I have this larger unit in my car...much more expensive but use this until I get you another one”.

The purifier ran all night and within the first hour I noticed a dramatic difference. I called my mother right away to share my excitement. I had the large unit for a few days which was so nice of Barry to have given me. Then he brought me my purifier. Within a day, I was 100% better. Thank God!

Thanks again!
Susan
